Marketing Your Third Eye

Marketing is all about what you share with the world. This is going to be done through a vision rather than pushing. The vision that you have today is going to pull you into this reality verses trying to push or struggle towards something that is not authentic to you.

Giving the universe and earth energies time to catch up to your new laid out path, allowing for those energies to work with you and shift into your desired vision is essential to making this vision a reality.

Envisioning Your Present Life

What does your present life look like? What physical, mental, emotional, spiritual symptoms do you have right now?

Vision from 5 Years in the Future

Write down as many details as you can from your vision that you had during the session.

What do your surroundings look like? Your house, personal space? Location?

What do you look like in the mirror?

What are you sharing with the world through your personal gifts and talents? (zoom sessions, craft room, products?)

What relationships are in your life? Partner? Kids? Family? Community?

What is your diet or nutritional level? Are you exercising?

What are your daily rituals?

What does the rest of the day lead you through?

What is your evening ritual?

Pulling yourself back to the present

When you are ready, watch the video again to pull yourself back the present after fully feeling, being and living that future vision.
