Third Eye Charka Lunar Cycle

Imagination is vital to our third eye. The ability to have no thought is not often achieved for most people, yet I have found that going to the place of no-thing is possible. When we are in the place of no-thing we are able to co-create with the Cosmic Mother and brith entire new worlds into existence. So rather than filling up our third eye with more visions and thoughts we can create space for the no-thing space, the void, the black hole of all creation. Often the feelings, impressions and thoughts we have towards our third eye can keep us stagnant or help us soar. It is always within our own willingness or not to shift into a new perspective. Allow for the seeds of your soul to be planted in this new moon to find what is truly possible in the no-thing space.

What seeds are you ready to plant to communicate your thoughts, desires, and unique creativity into the world this lunar cycle?

Sassafras- Sassafras officinale

The leaves can be made into teas and poultices. While the root bark is steeped in boiling water to reduce fevers, soothe rheumatism, gout, dropsy, relieve eye inflammation, ease menstrual and parturition pain, cure scurvy, various skin conditions and disinfectant. It has been said to help with infections as well as purifying the blood and is effective against excess mucus. This plant also was a cure for gonorrhea and syphilis as well. Sassafras is strongly cleansing and protective and magically, and can ward off evil. As a tea it is a good ritual tonic. Its stimulating and warming, aphrodisiac qualities makes it suitable for sex magic and tantric rituals. Indigenous also used to smoke the root bark.
